

The Florida Bureau of Archaeological Research (BAR) announces a change to its Conservation and Recreation Lands (CARL) Archaeological Program. It has been renamed "Public Lands Archaeology" (PLA) to reflect the program's broader scope and revised work objectives. PLA still maintains the general goals and responsibilities of CARL. Staff assists state agencies in the management of cultural resources associated with conservation lands. This work includes archaeological surveys, inventories, and damage and impact assessments, as well as education and public outreach.

Please note that BAR and PLA have recently relocated their offices. Their new physical address is:

B. Calvin Jones Center for Archaeology
at the Governor Martin House
1001 De Soto Park Drive
Tallahassee, Florida 32301

The mailing address remains as:

RA Gray Building
500 South Bronough Street
Tallahassee, Florida 32399-0250

Please feel free to contact PLA staff, listed below, for questions concerning cultural resource management issues. They look forward to hearing from you!
