ANNOUNCEMENTS

Greetings from the FAC Membership Committee (Myles Bland, Thomas Pluckhahn, and Michele Williams)

The FAC Membership Committee has contacted all of the Members in Good Standing regarding the 2015 FAC Membership Drive. March 15th was the deadline for 2015 dues, and, as of March 25th, we have received 68 renewals and three new members (Barbara Clark, Melissa Dye, and Nicole Grinnan). We have been contacted by five long-term members who stated that they have left archaeology or retired from the field and will no longer be members of our organization.

There will be additional email reminders once the March deadline has past.

We ask that all Members check the FAC web site for accuracy of their contact information and current status. Any changes to the Membership database may be sent to Michele (mwill167@fau.edu).

The Yamasee Indians: From Florida to South Carolina

April 17-18, 2015

Flagler College, St. Augustine, FL

Please join us for the first conference on the history and archaeology of the Yamasee Indians. We will meet at Flagler College, just blocks away from eighteenth-century Yamasee sites in historic St. Augustine.

April 2015 marks the 300th anniversary of the Yamasee War, a war that transformed the history of the southeast leading to the end of the Indian slave trade and the rise of the Old South. Using the tercentenary of the Yamasee War as inspiration, the conference examines the Yamasee Indians before and after the war. Presenters include: Amy Turner Bushnell, Keith Ashley, Eric C. Poplin, Chester B. DePratter, William R. Ramsey, Alex Sweeney, Jane G. Landers, Steven C. Hahn, Denise I. Bossy, Susan Parker, Amanda Hall, Andrea Paige White, and Carl D. Halbirt. The sessions will be chaired by: John E. Worth, Charles Cobb, Alan Gally, and Gifford Waters.

Registration is $25 through April 10 and is limited to the first 120 registrants. After April 10, attendees may register for $35 at the door if spots are still available. For more information and to register, please go to: <http://yamaseeconference.weebly.com/>

The conference is organized by Dr. Denise I. Bossy (History Department, University of North Florida) and Dr. Chester B. DePratter (South Carolina Institute of Archaeology and Anthropology at the University of South Carolina). It is sponsored by the University of North Florida, the South Carolina Institute of Archaeology and Anthropology at the University of South Carolina, the St. Augustine Historical Society, and Flagler College.

Florida Anthropological Society

67th Annual Meeting: The Many Faces of Florida, Past and Present

May 28-31, 2015

Sarasota, Florida

Time Sifters Archaeology Society is pleased to be hosting the 67th Annual Meeting of the Florida Anthropological Society. The meeting will be held at the Hyatt Regecy Sarasota.

Sarasota is a tourist mecca with one of the best beaches in the world; it is a place for everybody's enjoyment with world class botanical gardens, marine research center/aquarium, and art museum; a great theater selection, fishing, golf, an out-standing park system, and a very vibrant historic downtown with a huge selection of cafes and restaurants. The past environs were rich with aboriginal culture; the shoreline of the bay was lined with mounds and middens. The abundance of the marine environment later supported Cuban fishing ranchos, and early settlers were attracted by the area's natural beauty.

We have a great weekend planned that will celebrate the past and the present of this great community and, of course, research from all over the state. We hope you will join us.

A Preliminary schedule, registration forms and call for papers announcement are available. The abstract deadline has been extended to Friday, April 3, 2015. Links to the registration forms and hotel reservation system can be found at <http://www.fasweb.org/meeting.htm>.
